Better than Calomel Or Harsh Cathartics Many Have Discovered "E-Z" Tablets Are Safer

"E-Z" Tablets, the substitute for harsh cathartics, are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver and bowels is immediate. Surely, but gently, without strain or griping, they take hold of the trouble quickly and correct it.

"E-Z" Tablets are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. There are no bad after-effects attendant upon them. Calomel and strong liquids play havoc with the gums and teeth. It is best not to resort to such harsh measures, but to let "E-Z" Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy, listless feeling are the result of constipation and lazy liver. Take "E-Z" Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy" or "All Tired Out." Note how they clear the clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits.

"E-Z" Tablets are most excellent for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Lazy Liver, Piles, Heartburn, Worms, Constipation, Bad Blood, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, Headache, Insomnia, Etc.

One hundred little pleasant-tasting, chocolate-covered tablets cost 25c. Sample package, 5c. Sold by

CROP REPORT SHOWS BRIGHT PROSPECTS

Wheat, Corn and Vegetables Give Promise of Large Yield.

Not only are abundant crops promised in a report just issued by the committee on statistics and standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, but it goes on to say a "most encouraging and significant feature of the situation is the general confidence of the business world in the future."

The total yields of both spring and winter wheat will in all probability be greater than the results of 1915, the report continues.

The outlook for a record-breaking corn crop is unusually good.

The production of potatoes, both Irish and sweet, will probably exceed that of any previous year, according to the report. Tobacco is in general a good crop.

The hay production will be very great. Cotton is very backward. The cattle industry is good. Hogs as a rule are doing very well.

The dairy industry appears to be growing. The condition of the sheep industry is reported excellent.

The lumber interest as a whole is very busy. Building as a whole is declining, particularly in the large cities. Mining in all forms is unusually good.

"Manufacturing of all kinds is exceedingly busy, being overwhelmed with orders but suffers, however, from difficulty in procuring raw material and the very great and constant changing personnel of labor in its employ," the report concludes.

Norwegian experiments with fishing with the aid of electric lights lowered into the sea have been failures, the illumination apparently frightening the fish away.

KNOCKS AMENDMENTS TO U. S. CONSTITUTION

Senator Brandegee Disapproves of Change for Woman Suffrage.

Senator Brandegee, who took part on Thursday in the Senate debate over the parliamentary disposal of a motion to discharge the committee having in consideration the proposed amendment to the Constitution allowing the vote to women, said yesterday that he was opposed to the suffrage extension.

He made it plain that his vote would be cast wholly on the grounds of the danger in changing the Constitution for any purpose. His views are set forth in the following articles written for the International News Service:

By FRANK B. BRANDEGEE, Senator From Connecticut.

The Constitution of the United States of America is the instrument which gave birth to the nation.

It was intended to be, and in my opinion ought to continue to be, the authority which limits the various powers of the government and preserves its fundamental characteristics.

While the Constitution provides for its own amendment upon the recommendation of two-thirds of each House of Congress, when ratified by legislatures or conventions of three-fourths of the States, and while it can be amended in any respect in which these amendments see fit to amend it, I have always felt that it was improper and unwise to make of this broad fundamental basis of the structure of the government of the nation a compendium of amendments to its status.

It must be remembered that three-fourths of the States can easily be selected which contain a minority of the total population of the country, and for this minority of the population to utilize their powers as States for the purpose of imposing their will upon a majority of the people contained in the other three-fourths of the States, in matters not connected with the fundamental of our national government, seems to me to be not only exceedingly unwise but exceedingly dangerous.

If the people who adopted the Constitution of the United States could have foreseen the use to which the power to amend it would be prostituted, I do not believe that the Constitution could ever have been adopted. I prophesy that the time will come, and that, too, in the near future, when the perversion of the power to amend the Constitution will have to stop, its continued misuse is sure to result in the most dire consequences to the country.

QUEEN MARY SELLS PIES TO SUBJECTS

Aids Communal Kitchen by Acting as Waitress in Crowd.

(London, August 2-Queen Mary has added to her other activities that of serving sausages and onions to East End crowds. At least, she did so recently at the opening of the newest communal kitchen.

The helpings served by the Queen were large and the price was only three pence (six cents) a portion. She was accompanied by Princess Mary, and great cheers greeted her when she stepped down to start her duties in the kitchen.

After a few speeches, Queen Mary took a place behind the counter and quickly sold all the pies. "All the pies are gone," the Queen told a poor woman carrying a baby, "but won't you have a bit of ham for your penny? It looks very good." Tries came a small boy who wanted four portions of apple pudding with jam sauce at two pence each. He had forgotten to bring a plate.

"That's all right," said the Queen. "Take it away in paper. What do you want?" she asked the next, a little girl whose head barely reached the counter.

"Two portions of cold 'am, miss, please," was the reply. The Queen and Princess Mary laughed and continued to do so when the tiny customer handed the Queen an envelope in which to put the ham. For her majesty only with difficulty managed to squeeze four slices in. The Queen stayed an hour at her task, apparently enjoying the novel experience.
